How to get there

Facilities & infrastructure

Money

Banks with bureau de change facilities and ATMs can be found in Terminals 1 and 2. Passengers are advised to change their leftover dirhams before going through security as there is nowhere to exchange money in Departures. Technically the Moroccan dirham is a closed currency, which means it can't be traded outside the country.

Communications

There is a post office in Terminal 1. Wi-Fi connections are available in Terminals 1 and 2 and telephones can be found throughout the airport.

Food

The restaurants and cafés at Casablanca Mohammed V International Airport are concentrated in Terminals 1 and 2. Options range from sit-down restaurants serving local fare to a pizzeria in Terminal 1.

Shopping

There are shops in all terminals selling a range of goods, from Moroccan arts and crafts to electronics and fashion items. Duty-free outlets can be found in all three terminals, although cigarettes and alcohol cannot be paid for in dirhams, only euros.

Other

Other facilities at Casablanca Mohammed V International Airport include a 24-hour medical centre, pharmacy, children's play areas and a prayer room.

Conference & Business

Fax, photocopy and internet facilities are available in the small business centre in the main hall at Terminal 1. There are no conference facilities at Casablanca Mohammed V International Airport but the nearby Atlas Airport Hotel (www.hotelsatlas.com) houses meeting space.

Accessibility

Lifts and ramps provide easy access to most parts of the airport. Wheelchair transportation can be provided between the aeroplane and the terminal buildings – passengers requiring wheelchairs and special assistance should inform their airline prior to travel. Car parking spaces are dedicated to disabled passengers in the on-site car parks.
